

This is a comment in regards to the matter of Broadcast Localism and its potential for taking priority over current FM translator services, specifically K-LOVE radio station which is often heard on FM translators.

I am a loyal listener to the K-LOVE station and would hate to see it jeopardized by this action. The K-LOVE station definitely serves me as a resident of my local community. We live in the Mohawk Valley in Upstate New York and currently this is the only Contemporary Christian FM radio station that I can receive. This is the main type of music that I enjoy and listen to.

I would definitely be saddened and disappointed if I could not receive this radio station anymore because of an FCC decision to let Low Power FM station to take it over. There are many other stations with other types of music available in my area, but this is the only Contemporary Christian Station that we get.

This station provides uplifting music for anyone that tunes in. The music is wholesome and appropriate for the whole family to listen to. I don't have to be worried about my son listening to it, whereas I do have concerns when he listens to other stations.

Thank-you for taking the time to read my comments and taking them into account in reaching your decision on this matter.
